

Parents and Children, Thanks for signing in!

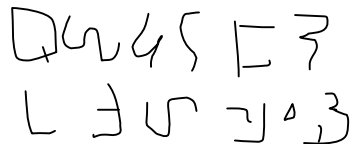

Each morning we ask that you and your child sign into our classroom. As adults we are constant role models for our children. When children see adults write, then print becomes real and meaningful in their eyes. Thanks for your encouragement.

Our goal is for your children to become writers who love to write. Your child's first "writing" may include anything from...

Scribbles

Letter-like forms

Recognizable letters

Letters that represent sounds in writing words
